My Dear Fellow Dog and Cat Lover,

If you and your pet are already healthymouth "lifera" and have been on this journey with me through the incredible life and now after-life of the love of my life, Ping-Pong, and now thriving household of my 6 pup loves, then you know 1) I only create solutions that are driven first by the needs of my own pet-kids and 2) I only create solutions that I do actually have my pups using every day for their entire long lives and 3) I do not stop until I have found the solution that isn't just good, isn't just great, but it's so remarkably effective and safe that I will only formulate and launch a new product if it contains 100% of the exact ingredients that I give to my own.

I would go without everything, in order for my pups to have what they need. I could lose everything in the world and it wouldn't matter as long as I had my 6 and Ping in my heart. If you are reading this, then I'm quite sure you are the same way.

If you and your pet are new to healthymouth, then you have just learned who I am and that is someone just like you.

So, why healthymouth & PURE HEMP with CBD oil? I'm not into fads or snake oil I'm about research, science and seeing not believing. I'm not a stoner, (maybe in college but that was literally ages ago.☺) But each of my dogs, healthy as they, have different, ongoing issues, needs, behavior that I knew was impacting each of my baby's lives and so therefore, mine. I would NEVER medicate them as a life-time solution.

I had read and seen enough first hand of the benefits of hemp CBD oil and other products containing hemp CBD. Mind you, I would never give THC to my pet and I can't even tolerate it. As you have seen there are literally thousands of companies with products and making claims (that they should not be doing by the way). I'm a regulatory stickler and the FDA has not approved any of these claims. You may experience, but as a business owner, I would never and do not make them.

I was as confused as anyone. I wasn't happy with any of them. They were either too strong and made my pups ill the next day, or they had no effect at all or I didn't like that they used "filler" with the oil. I personally, wasn't a fan of giving my pups straight oil and would always mix it with something else before ingestion.

Then someone I trust as a chemist for over 40 years, suggested I contact one particular supplier. She had heard excellent feedback about this company's research, safety of their farming practices, their oil was extracted using a CO2 extraction method (which I will explain separately), but this is critically important. They had superior quality checks in place with very respected 3rd party testing facilities and the quality of the oil was evident because it was 99% Pure Hemp oil.

That's when I decided to devise a never before done, formulation utilizing my patented healthymouth formula with this specific Pure Hemp CBD oil. Getting the right ratio where it would be highly effective, but also at a dosage that was meant for daily lifetime usage took me more than a year.

Next came the most important part. Giving the product to each of my pups daily and to seeing what happened or didn't happen over a 6-month period. Remember I have all different breeds, sizes, ages, temperaments. I adore them, but they are high maintenance each in their own way.

What happened was remarkable. First, they all loved the topper on their food and ate it from day one happily. Their stools were all good. No side effects the next day. Great start. I saw the benefits the very first night on EVERY one of my 6 pups which is pretty incredible. I couldn't believe that it addressed each of their different needs and at the same time they got their extra dose of healthymouth for their mouth care (they also drink the blue healthymouth, it's their favorite flavor and they actually drink more water because of it which is what a mom wants as dogs need lots of hydration just like us).

Over the next 6 months, it kept working and it's a part of their daily wellness and mouth care and will be for the rest of their lives.

Next, I took my secret new formulation out to over 200 different pet parents (with no compensation) except the possibility to improve their dogs and cats' lives. The dogs and cats were a combination of rescues to pampered pets, every breed and age. All had expressed interest in a human grade formulation addressing mouth and wellness care.

Every one of the 200 pet parents LOVED the product, saw significant improvement in the quality of life for their pet and no pet turned its nose up to eat it! And everyone asked me if they could please continue and purchase it from me. Of course, I would give them product for life as my gift, but I then did know that I had to bring this product to market as soon as possible, so that all pet lovers, like me and them, could have their pet kids benefit from a supplement that could change their pet's mouths, change their pet's wellness issues and change their pet's lives.

Warm regards,

Karen and 6 + 1 in heaven.

If you want to learn about What is CBD? And Why does Cos extraction matter? Please read below.

What is CBD?

Also known as Cannabidiol, CBD is a compound that comes from hemp plants. It is non-addictive, non-psychoactive, 100% safe, has abilities to address many health issues and is completely different than any THC substance.

Cannabinoids interact with the endocannabinoid receptors located in the central and peripheral nervous systems, which help maintain balance in the body and keep it in a normal healthy state.

Why does CO2 extraction matter?

It uses pressurized carbon dioxide which is naturally occurring and non-toxic, to pull the desired compounds from the hemp plant and is among the safest industrial extraction methods. This results in a pure, clean, quality oil that involves little to no post processing.
